

S.T.B. Fish Shipment Packaging Process Details

Fish delivery conditions

Fish selection process

After we receive the order, we will select the fish that meet the shipping standards one by one and confirm the quantity that can be shipped. After confirming the quantity, we will provide feedback to the customer on the types of sufficient inventory on site and suggestions for replacement.

After confirming the order, we will book the flight and fast the fish for shipment 48 hours before packaging. We also conduct a final inspection on all fish to confirm that they are complete and healthy before being packed into bags.

We will decide how much water to pack based on the shipping time. Taking Europe as an example, the entire shipping time takes about 25-30 hours. Each pack of 3-4cm fish contains about 350ml of water. Our boxes can hold 80 packs of fish in one box. Fish of 3-4cm and fish of 4-5cm are packed in the same way. The weight of one box is approximately 32kg. The minimum order quantity is recommended to be more than 100 kilograms, which is 240 clownfish.

The contents of the box include waterproof plastic bags, Styrofoam boxes, and insulated aluminum foil bags. If the temperature is high during transportation or at the transfer point, we will also add long-lasting ice packs to maintain the temperature during transportation.

Packing method and review

When packaging, each package of fish is labeled. The label includes the common name, scientific name, size, box number, bag number and customer name. Of course, these can be adjusted according to your actual needs. We will pack the items according to the packaging list after confirming that the items are correct, and the entire packing process will be recorded and saved. From the beginning of packaging to the airport, we will send photos to inform customers of every process.
